As a professional skier, how do you stay grounded ?
Fortunately the people that surround me keep me pretty level headed.

Who is your hero ?
Andy Mapple of course but that's cliché...so I'll say anyone who sets a goal and works their ass off to achieve it.

Do you have a pre-ski ritual ?
Jergen's, drop the kids off at the pool, stretch, mental set and a dance party (obviously)...ok, but seriously...I allow myself to get nervous because I ski better that way.

My kids will be left foot forward. (smiling)

What is your favorite part about waterskiing?

Well even though slalom is the money maker and my forte.. jump really gets me off...and I love turn'n tricks. Right now I'm working on a trick which is a 540 with the rope on the foot.

Anybody you'd like to give a shout out too?

Mom and Dad for pushing me, Hawthorne lake crew, Adam Cord at Elite, the rest of my sponsors.
